

Dentist

Contributed by Aeris
Saturday, 16 January 2010

I went to the dentist! Mommy and I had an appointment together on Monday January 11th. I did very well, for my first visit. Mommy asked me if I wanted to go first or if I wanted her to go first. I chose to go first, so Mommy stayed in the waiting room. Everything went smooth...well, until Linn (the dental hygeneist & Jack's mommy) wanted me to lay back in the chair so that she could shine this big light in my mouth. That's where I drew the line. I didn't scream or anything...I just wouldn't lay back. The good thing is, Linn was so nice that she didn't even push me. Mommy said I did a good job just going back there all by myself and maybe next time Linn and the dentist can look in my mouth. Then...after my turn was over, I sat very nicely while Mommy got her teeth cleaned and flossed. I'm such a good girl!